

Flame-resistant polycarbonate/ABS moulding compositions

A b s t r a c t

The present invention relates to thermoplastic polycarbonate moulding compositions which contain phosphazenes and special graft polymers produced by means of redox initiator systems and are distinguished by substantially improved mechanical properties.